Fiverr

I have experience working on the fiverr. I gained valuable experience in developing, promoting myself as a specialist and in communicating with clients.
I want to mention one interesting order that I completed. It was the creation of an interactive form in which you can create a unique neon sign by changing the text, font, color, etc. Then all data was collected and sent to the company's email for further processing of the order.

Students Hackathon
SoftServe academy

I took part in a student hackaton from the IT company SoftServe. My team won this competition and received a course from SoftServe academy as a prize.
By taking part in this event, I improved my development skills and also gained teamwork skills.
